

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews should be a main factor in making a decision regarding the experience and typical outcomes of any All-on-4 Dental Implant facility. Beware that many All-on-4 Dental Implant facilities post fake reviews and stock photos. Do your research when choosing a reputable All-on-4 Dental Implant provider.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Real Reviews

- It's common practice for people to check out what other consumers have written online before they make a major purchase. What you may not realize is a lot of consumer reviews on the Internet are bogus. In fact, 20 percent of Yelp reviews are fake, according to a Harvard Business School study published last fall. And Bing Liu, a data-mining expert at the University of Illinois, Chicago, puts the overall number of fake reviews closer to 30 percent.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Real Reviews

- It's a duplicitous practice, but there are some clues to help determine if a review is concocted. According to researchers at Cornell University who have developed an automated algorithm to detect them. You can test it out on a site they developed called Review Skeptic. When you cut-and-paste review text into the site, you'll get a verdict on whether it's real or fake.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Reputation Management

WARNING!

FAKE REVIEWS
WILL BE FOUND

- Some practices spend millions of dollars for Reputation Management companies to try and bury their bad, usually honest reviews, by creating fake reviews, scripted videos, and deceptive marketing in an attempt to make them rank higher on the internet.
- Here are two examples:

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Before & After Photos

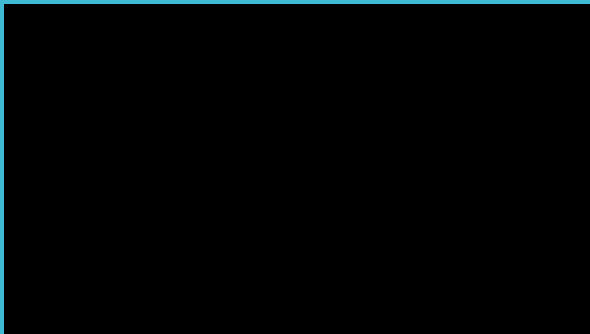

- Any facility that regularly performs the All-on-4 Dental Implant Procedure should have available plenty of before and After Photos, this is their portfolio. You would not hire a landscape, or home designer without seeing plenty of results of their craft. This is the same when choosing an All-on-4 Dental Implant provider. Photos can create stronger connections than text. Plus, with modern technology, they're easier to consume and distribute. This is why people love sharing and viewing pictures on the web.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Visual Results

- This concept carries over to the practice of aesthetics. For prospective patients, photos are not just nice to have—they're a necessity. A recent RealSelf survey found that 83 percent of consumers researching cosmetic surgery said they would not consider a practice that doesn't have Before & After photos. Unfortunately many practices steal photos from the web, so be sure to check photos with this tool: REVERSE IMAGE SEARCHING TOOL

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Testimonial Videos

- No one really trusts you or what you have to say about your own company. Why would they? But people will listen to other people's opinions about your company. If they know and trust that person – so much the better. Even if they don't, they are more likely to believe a stranger (or better yet, a bunch of strangers) talking about you rather than you talking about you.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Testimonial Videos

- That's why testimonial videos are so powerful. Any practice that regularly performs the All-on-4 Dental Implant procedure should have dozens of authentic Patient Testimonial Videos, that are not scripted and convey a Patients true feelings. You should avoid any practice with only a few overly produced Patient Testimonial Videos.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Talk to Past and Current Patients

- If you do not have a personal recommendation to the Dentist or facility it can be helpful to speak to past patients. You should speak to several Patients, but remember, these past patients are giving their time to speak to prospective patients. So you must respect that there is a limit to how many people they can speak with. Other good places to find out about the Dentists and interact with Patients are Social Media sites and Review Forums.

All-on-4 Dental Implant Reviews – Do Your Research

- When it comes to your oral health, your self-esteem, and your overall well-being we encourage you to investigate before you decide. When it comes to Dental Implants and Cosmetic Dentistry sometimes we get what we pay for, unlike buying paper-towels, or laundry detergent, where sometimes the “bargain brand” will do, making an investment in yourself should never be a sacrifice. Be sure to check the credentials of any Dentist or facility, don't just assume because they say it, it must be true.
